PRESENTATION

The Faculty of Law of Sassari University and the Association for the Promotion of University Studies in Central Sardinia (Consorzio per la promozione degli Studi universitari nella Sardegna centrale), in collaboration with the Town Council of Nuoro, the Italian Council for the European Movement, the Union for the Protection of Human Rights (UFTDU), Europe Direct and the Nuoro Chamber of Commerce, are pleased to offer the second edition of Summer School on «The Future of Human Rights in Europe» to be held in Nuoro from 17th to 22nd July, 2017. The Summer School is an intensive course organized in five days of lessons and designed to meet the new demands of cultural and interdisciplinary deepening. The program includes: front lessons, case studies, a workshop about migrant rights, and a traveling lesson at Nuchis maximum security prison, as well as moments dedicated to discovering the culture and traditions of Sardinia. There is increasing recognition of the urgent need to deepen understanding of issues linked to the protection of fundamental human rights. This is no longer a topic for a few specialists, but has rather become a key social and legal area which no branch of the legal profession can afford to ignore. The Summer School is an advanced course which will focus on in-depth examination of recent developments in the treatment of fundamental human rights in Europe.

Particular attention will be paid to the protective instruments of the Council of Europe and of the European Union and how these work together, to the accession of the European Union to the European Convention of Human Rights, and to the relationships between the various Courts.

Study sessions will provide an opportunity to review the future of human rights protection in a variety of contemporary social contexts through the perspective of recent rulings from the European Court of Human Rights. Teachers are academics from Italian and International Universities, lawyers and representatives of international institutions working in the Human Rights field. One day will be spent onsite at the top security prison of Nuchis (Tempio) which is located close to Nuoro. This day will focus on the rehabilitative function of prison sentencing. The visit will include discussion with a group of prisoners.

TARGET AUDIENCE

The Summer School is aimed at undergraduate and graduate students, including ERASMUS exchange students, solicitors, barristers and other members of the legal professions, civil servants, representatives of NGOs in the human rights sector and all who wish to improve their knowledge of international and European human rights protection.

The course will have a minimum of 20 and a maximum of 40 participants. 10 places are reserved for students of the University of Sassari (either Sassari or Nuoro sections).

SCHOLARSHIPS AND CERTIFICATE OF ATTENDANCE

At the end of the course, two scholarships of 250,00 Euros, dedicate to the memory of Dr. Gianfranca Deiana, each will be awarded for a study trip to Bruxelles in October 2017. The study trip will provide scholarship holders with the opportunity to participate actively (as far as is permitted) in the work of the EU Council, the European Commission and the plenary sessions of the European Parliament. A certificate of attendance will be issued at the end of the Summer School.
